Sharples Milker Demonstration on a Truck

Date

c. 1920-1930

Medium

photographic paper, mat board backing

Description

Photographic Print. Two men stand in front of a cow in the center of the print. A man stands to the right of the men behind the cow and another man stands to the left of the men holding a painting. All four men and cow are standing on the bed of a truck. A sign hanging off the side of the truck says "SHARPLES MILKER." Part of a fence leans against the side of the truck. The fence has small American flags attached to the posts. The men, cow, truck, and fence dominate the bottom half of the print. A building stands behind the truck, filling the top half of the print. There is an American flag hanging off the balcony of the building. The truck is probably being used for a Sharples Milk display or in a parade. . ;;A Sharples Milker is a device that milks cows. The cow in the print is hooked up to the device. A Sharples Milker Company was located in Madrid, New York.
