

Glengarry Cap

Date

c. 1870

Primary Maker

Mohawk (Haudenosaunee)

Medium

Glass beads, paillettes, black velvet, cotton binding, cotton fabric

Description

The British Army in Canada after the French Indian War (1754-63) included the Scottish Glengarry Regiment whose dress uniform was distinguished by this unique form of cap. Native women beaded hats such as this one and sold them to tourists and visitors as souvenirs.

Dimensions

Overall: 3 1/2 × 5 1/2 × 10 3/4 in. (8.9 × 14 × 27.3 cm)