Description

Three men and two women pose in the office of the Valley Creamery Co. The man on the left of the image wears a suit and tie, without the jacket. He has a mustache. He is standing with his arms behind his back in front of a safe type cabinet filled with ledgers. The door of the cabinet has "Buffalo N. Y" on it in gold print. A man stands beside him wearing a full suit. A man and two women stand behind a large desk/work area. They are all wearing white tops. On the desk sit several ledgers and an F&E Check Protector. In front of the desk there can be seen an accounting machine and a chair. Three calendars on the walls show that it is September. (either 1915, 1920, 1926 or 1937 likely, because those are the years that the 6th fell on a Monday; and the F&E check protector was not manufactured until 1914.) One calendar advertises the De Laval Cream Separator.
