Description

Image is of a tank inside a frame with a roof over top of it.

It is on wooden beams, off the ground. It is located in a barren landscape of dirt , that looks freshly moved. In the background is a forest. A line or tube comes down the hill behind the tank towards the tank. It looks like a large pipe is also coming out from under the tank and into the ground on the right. Perhaps this is a maple sap holding tank?
