

Basic Detail Report

Chingachgook

Date

1983

Primary Maker

Jud Hartman

Medium

Bronze

Description

Bronze bust of a Native American man with a gaunt and heavily lined face (Chingachgook from James Fenimore Cooper's "Leatherstocking Tales"). His head is shaved except for a patch at the crown, which is styled into an elaborate mohawk with long, narrow feathers, and he wears earrings and a necklace of claws. The Bronze bust is set on a wooden base.

Dimensions

Overall: 34 × 15 × 16 in. (86.4 × 38.1 × 40.6 cm)