Description

Title of diagram is "Flow Diagram of a Single Section of Plates from a CP Full-Flo Plate Unit." Caption says "In this diagram the light blue indicates milk, and the light red, hot water. Arrows and lines are printed in darker colors simply to make it easier to follow the flow. Essentially the same flow principle as illustrated would apply with milk and cooling medium or milk to milk regeneration." Another diagram in the lower left (presumably) shows a photograph of the object in the diagram. A partially photographed caption reads: "? operation, the single plate section illustrated is locked ? the press as indicated below by the dotted lines."
