Description

Exterior view of a wooden silo being filled. Two men sit on top of the silo wall holding their hats up in the air. There is no roof on the silo. Several men are on the ground next to the silo with a wagon of corn. A belt crosses the viewing area likely powering a silo loader. A large barn is behind the silo. Additions were made onto three sides of an English barn, possibly for stable areas. An entry door is open behind the wooden silo.
