Description

A dam runs horizontally across the middle of the print.

Reeds are visible near the center of the print and obscure part of the dam. The bottom half of the print contains water, plants, and figures. Two men and two women stand to the right of the print's center. The men are oriented in different directions, each pointing a fishing pole in that direction. A man stands in the water on the left side of the print, holding an object that could possibly be a net. There is a bucket between the man with the object and a man pointing a fishing rod. The print is framed on a tan matte. ;
