Description

Two apple parers are located on the left side of the print. One sits on a table and one sits on the ground. The parer on the table is inscribed with the words "PACIFIC MADE BY HUNT M.F.G. CO. SODUS, N.Y. U.S.A. No. 2." The parer on the floor is inscribed with the words, "PACIFIC MADE BY HUNT M.F.G. CO. SODUS, N.Y. U.S.A. No. 1." The back of the postcard indicates that Hunt Apple Parers are "Built for Business." ;;Two boys and another parer are located on the right side of the print. The boy on the left is dressed as a cowboy. He wears a hat, holds a lasso with his left arm, and is pointing a gun with his right arm. The boy on the right is dressed as a Native American. He is wearing a headpiece and is holding a bow and arrow as if he is aiming to shoot it. The boys point their weapons and focus their eyes toward a location to the left of the camera. The Don Hand Parer sits on the ground in front of the two boys. The inscription on the back says that Don Hand Parers "Hit the Mark." "They Hit the Mark" is written in the top left section of the print.
