Vine Valley Scene

Date

c. 1880-1890

Medium

photographic paper

Description

The print looks at Vine Valley farmland and houses from the vantage point of a hill. A road begins on the bottom right corner of the print, running parallel to the bottom right edge and curving upward toward the center of the print. The bottom right section shows a field being harvested for crops. A field of grass is located just behind this field. There is a church just behind the grass field. There is a house near the left edge of the print surrounded by trees. Farmland is located directly behind this house. There are other houses and trees in the distance. The top third section of the print contains hills filled with farmland. The print is framed on a black matte.
