Description

Twelve farmers and/or farm hands pose for a photograph. Behind the five men on the left is a harnessed horse. The men stand or lean on a wagon, that appears to be in poor condition with a broken wheel. Two men on the right sit atop horses, while a third man stands to the left of his horse. Two more men are seated in front of the horses. Two additional men pose between these two groups. Hay and/or barley forks, hats, and canteens or lunch pails are strewn about the ground. One man leans on a pick-axe on the left. A large piece of farm equipment is in partial view through the men posed on the right. In the background corn grows in a large field, partially harvested. The men are identified on the back of the postcard.
