Loading Hay with a Hay Loader

Date

c. 1907-1915

Medium

photographic paper

Description

Two women drive a wagon of hay loaded down with loose hay that is spilling over the sides and almost touching the ground below. A man stands on the back of the wagon moving the hay forward with a hay fork as it is loaded on the top of the wagon by a hay loader. The horse team pulling the load is obviously straining under the weight. In the mid-ground a stone wall separates the fields. Wooded hills grace the background of the farm scene.
