Description

A large building is the focal point of this print. The words "CLADSTONE FLOUR MILL" are printed on the side of the building. Four men stand under an awning at the front of the building. They are leaning on a wagon filled with flour bags. Two horses are harnessed to the wagon. Two train cars are visible between the right edge of the print and the right edge of the building near the bottom right corner of the print. There is a small brick building either attached to the Flour Mill or to the left of the flour mill. The brick building is near the bottom left corner of the print. There is a smoke stack behind the brick building.
